

International Forum - global warming problem
Comments by
Frank Convery
Tokyo, March 5, 2004

I Greetings from Ireland

Lafcadio Hearn (Yakumi Koizumi)

Spent childhood in Ireland where he fell in love with Irish music, poetry, nature, folk

He loved the same things in Japan-the inner rather than the `outer` Japan So when you learnt about Japanese traditions and folk tales at school, you were also unconsciously learning about Ireland...

II.ESRI Collaboration Project

Seek learning throughout the world

Dosatsu ryoko - To see things as they really are`.

Japanese Aesthetics

Kenko-`The use of the most economical means to obtain the desired effect`-garden at

Ryonji

(Basho)

The morning glories

Knowing nothing of drinking bouts

Are in full splendour.

III The same aesthetic applies to economy and environment

-`The most economical means to obtain the desired effect`

‘The most precious thing in life is its uncertainty`

IV The Kyoto Challenge – the desired effect.

The most economical means?

1. Price signals (WATER)

- carbon tax

-emissions trading

Recycling tax

-competitiveness-

equity

2. China Trade – CDM
(SAND)

3. Good information – .producers and
consumers (ROCKS)

4. Technology ((TREES))

V Japan can lead the world with these four steps

- Global leader economically
- Global leader environmentally